

Case Study

Everything right at the touch of your finger tips

BACKGROUND

With the evolving trends in technology and what it has to offer, it has been one of the most apt times to witness the change and the way it is being embraced by people at large. Earlier there were many different destinations mapped at varied places, which would actually be a bit cumbersome for attending to one's daily needs.

Thanks to the upcoming tech trends, it has now become easy not only for the technology at large, but also for the people across as they have synced in so well with the technology offerings.

Digital Transformation by Mobinius™

Now technology being the core focus, as a solution provider, it becomes crucial for organizations to play a critical role in the entire tech ecosystem, as it's important for them to be in sync with the entire digital transformation. Knowing that the client is a renowned name in the e-commerce domain, it becomes very important to understand the entire consumer psyche and their buyer behavior along with the diverse trends.

Keeping everything in mind, we decided to create a digital solution as a platform providing everything under one umbrella, right from the latest offerings in the cookware, to the leading brands in cosmetics, personal care, hygiene, groceries etc., under one roof! Imagine all the time & effort spent in going around looking for things at various places for various things at one roof itself!

Thanks to digitization the entire shopping scenario has now got a 360° facelift and has now become one of the most convenient ways to shop in style! With this in a nutshell, the entire shopping experience is a wholesome one, with varied products across the globe under one roof, catering to all the needs.

Well, all one needs is to browse the application and, then scroll through the entire spread of choices, as given in the menu and also avails some offers on the go exclusively meant for shoppers, along with some great deals on the grabs.

